Men's Conference Mission Statement

There is a desperate need for men to provide strong, spiritual, leadership in the family, the local church, and the nation. The men best equipped to do these tasks are those who:

- Know Jesus Christ as Savior.
- Believe the Bible to be the eternal Word of God.
- Hold high biblical standards for daily living.

These men will be found primarily in Bible-believing fundamental churches.

The Men's Conference is planned to have preachers minister to the Pastors and laymen of fundamental churches; to strengthen and encourage them in their personal lives, family relationships and church responsibilities.

Specific goals for the conference include:

1. To challenge any in attendance who do not know Christ, to receive Him as Savior.
2. To challenge all saved men to a life of godliness and purity.
3. To encourage married men to understand and obey the Scriptural exhortation to love their wives as Christ loved the Church.
4. To help men, who are parents, accept the responsibility for the headship of their homes and particularly to take on the obligation of rearing their children according to the teaching of God's Word.
5. To develop in men a deeper appreciation for God's teaching on marriage and the family as timeless, holy truths that continue to be His standard for our day.
6. To increase men's awareness of their obligation to serve Christ faithfully whether in the work place, the local neighborhood or the larger community of the state and nation.
7. To help men get a greater burden for serving the Lord through their local church under godly pastoral leadership.
8. To exhort men toward commitment to local church involvement; recognizing the church as instituted by the Lord for the accomplishment of His work in this age.
